BISHOP RESTARICK TO KAMEHAMEHA STUDENTS

The pupils of Kamehameha School last evening gathered in the Bishop Memorial Chapel together with their friends and the former pupils of the schools to hold memorial services in honor of the founder of the schools, Bernice Pauahi Bishop. The chapel was beautifully decorated with malle and fern. An impressive program was rendered, Bishop Restarick and Principal Percy L. Horne speaking.

An organ prelude by Miss S. Liliu Byington and the pupils sang the words of the chorus dedicated to Mrs. Bishop, "Pauahi Ke Aie." Following this was an invocation by Rev. John L. Horwood, chaplain of the school.

Principal Horne made the opening address which took the form of a welcome to all those present. He urged the former pupils of the schools to live up to the ideals taught them at the schools.

A solo was beautifully rendered by Chester G. Livingston who sang "Oh Lord Be Merciful."

Bishop Restarick gave the main address of the evening speaking of the lives of the great workers who had been responsible for the founding of the schools. He told how Charles B. Bishop had arrived in these islands and married Bernice Pauahi and how happy their life had been. He told of the usefulness of Mr. Bishop in life and how the great Kamehameha schools were founded. In concluding Bishop Restarick said:

"These schools were founded that you might acquire habits of industry, and if you do not gain these habits here the fault is yours."

"Boys and girls need encouragement. If you lead a boy to think himself bad or stupid he will very likely become discouraged and give up. You as Hawaiians should be encouraged by the thought of what your race has done in the brief space of its eighty years or in much less time for most of the people."

"Be inspired with the spirit of a that is best in the race. Remember your strong points and remember the weak points. You have if you will a great part to play in the future of these islands. You are citizens of a great country, you can speak a language which is more and more the language of the business world. If you acquire the habits of good moral living and of industry in your work then you will do your part in making these islands more and more a delightful place in which to live, you will do your part in preserving the race and in making it a power for good. Places await young men of good morals and of industrious habits, work had to gain them and the future is in your hands."

"We have here in these islands many races of men. Cultivate that spirit which looks for the man and not for the color language. He who fosters race hatred is an enemy of mankind. For our best interests we must be friends, we must be brothers. And one last word. Remember the example of your founder. Keep it up, carry out into practice what you learn—don't go back. Boys, keep it up. Be men."

Following the address Rev. E. B. Turner followed with a prayer and the services closed with a benediction by Rev. H. K. Poeppoe.
